WAINWRIGHT DEPOSES

And Says He Too Was Present at the Battle of Santiago.

HE TELLS THE COURT WHAT HE SAW.

Testimony of the Superintendent of the Naval Academy Where Mac- lay's History Was to Have Been Text Book—Other Witnesses

Washington, Oct. 8.—After the usual preliminaries in the Schley naval court of inquiry, Lieutenant C. W. Dyson, of the bureau of steam engineering of the navy department, was recalled to continue his testimony regarding the coal supply of Admiral Schley's flying squadron at the time of its arrival off Santiago harbor, May 26, 1898. He was brought in at the instance of Admiral Schley's counsel for the purpose of giving further testimony concerning the availability of the coal supply in charging the enemy. Commander Richard Wainwright was the principal witness of the day. Following him Bristol, Grant and Potts, watch officers on various vessels of the American fleet July 3, when the naval engagement off Santiago was fought, were on the list of witnesses. It has been the desire of the court to secure as much testimony as possible from the men whose special duty it was to keep a lookout and these three officers were summoned to gratify this wish.

There was special interest in Captain Wainwright's testimony because of his prominent identification with the Spanish war and also because of the fact that he is now superintendent of the naval academy at Annapolis. During the summer of 1898 Wainwright commanded the converted yacht Gloucester, which played a conspicuous part in the campaign against the Spaniards. In the battle July 3 his vessel occupied a position on the extreme right of the American column to the east of the Indiana, and when the Spanish torpedo boats Pluton and Furor came out of the harbor he attacked them fearlessly and aided in their destruction. He also was an observer, though at a distance, of the battle between the big ships of the two fleets.

Engines Not Coupled.

Lieutenant Dyson was asked: "What does the Brooklyn's steam log show as to the number of engines coupled up and the boilers in use July 3, 1898, as compared with the total engine and boiler power of the vessel?" The reply was: "Brooklyn has four main engines, two to each shaft, connected together by coupling. She has seven boilers, five main and two auxiliaries. The morning of July 3 both forward engines were uncoupled; there were banked fires under three of the main boilers. The other boilers were what we call 'dead,' no steam in them. Judging from the time it took to start fires in these boilers after the Spanish fleet came out of the harbor, I should say the furnace was not even primed and two of the boilers had to be run up to the sea steaming level. It took from 9:35 to 10 o'clock to start fires." In response to other questions witness detailed from the log of the Brooklyn all that was done on that vessel to get up speed. Mr. Raynor asked if it was not necessary to stop the ship to couple the uncoupled engines, and the witness replied that the ship could have been kept going with one engine while the other was coupled. The engines were designed, he said, to be kept coupled during war. Discussing the speed of the various vessels of the fleet July 3, witness said the Oregon got up a speed about equal to the Brooklyn that day, notwithstanding that on her trial trip Brooklyn made over 21 knots to the Oregon's 17 knots. He called attention to the fact that the New York had made 16 or 17 knots speed the day of the battle in response to questions from Captain Parker, he said the New York had not her engines coupled the day of the battle and that the Brooklyn had made all the speed necessary.

Hodgson Recalled.

After Lieutenant Dyson was excused, Lieutenant Commander Hodgson was recalled for the purpose of correcting errors in his testimony as printed in the official record. He took occasion to change some of the language of his previous testimony. One of these changes was made in response to the questions asked as to why he had designated as "a liar and a blackguard," the editor of a newspaper which had originally printed the alleged colloquy between himself and Commodore Schley. He said he desired to alter the reply he gave to the question. He then said: "I, of course, am very sorry I ever so far forgot myself as to write a letter containing such intemperate language. It was not written exactly for publication, but under great provocation at the time. In that letter I did not accuse the newspaper of lying for printing that statement. In fact, it was to absolve it from lying that I gave the paper authority to use my name for the correctness of the gist of that statement. The lying was in the matter that the commodore displayed such trepidation and cowardice on the Brooklyn the day of the battle that he ran from the Spaniards and took the Brooklyn to the southward and away from the fight in order to detract from the credit of the fame of the commodore in that battle; that they wished also to detract from the credit of all the officers of the Brooklyn on account of the glorious part she took in that day's fight. It was words to that extent that I characterized as lying. There was no lying in that colloquy, unless a man stuck to the verbal correctness of the words. So I did not characterize the paper as a liar for printing that colloquy."

Lieutenant Commander Hodgson being excused, Commander Wainwright was called. Captain Lemly began his examination by drawing from witness the fact that he had been a member and latterly senior member of the board which had officially acted in making the chart showing the positions of the American and Spanish ships at Santiago. He said: "When I reported as senior member of the board of navigators had a sketched chart with the number of the positions sketched on it, starting at different points, first when the ships came out and afterwards when they went ashore. Each navigator as near as possible would put the position of his ship at that time. There was a great deal of discussion as to the relative positions. Of course it was impossible to get any position by bearings and there was nothing about the relative positions. We also knew that the distances in the chart were somewhat incorrect, and the final decision of the board was to reconcile each one as near as possible, but none of the positions was considered exact. The impossibility of getting bearings even if we had a correct chart was absent, but it gave a general idea of the positions of the vessels during that battle. Mr. Raynor asked if it was true, as it had been officially stated, that the reported positions were assigned from 'bearings.' Witness replied that the statement was incorrect, that they were established by estimated bearings. Most of the positions were, he said, fixed by discussions among the navigators constituting the board, although Captain Chadwick was before the board. The navigators had done the best they could in placing the vessels and had made it as nearly correct as possible, so long after the engagement, as had been stated by the board. Asked by Mr. Raynor about the places assigned to the Brooklyn and the Texas while the former vessel was making her loop, Commander Wainwright said he did not consider them correct. "For myself," he said, "I was never satisfied with the places assigned. It was the best we could do to get all the members of the board to sign the report."

"Who, in addition to yourself, was not satisfied?" asked Mr. Raynor. "I would not like to say," responded the witness. "I know that the navigator of the Texas was not, for one. I think that none was satisfied except the navigator of the Brooklyn, and I don't know that he was."

"But notwithstanding you were all, including the navigator of the Brooklyn, dissatisfied, you signed the report?" "That is correct."

Commander Wainwright said that in making the chart all the members of the board were at liberty to contribute whatever data they had or make whatever arguments they might desire. He also said the chart was a compromise of opinion. In response to further questions witness said he did not see the Brooklyn the day of the battle of Santiago.

Questions were put by the court and answered as follows: "Were the positions of the ships as shown on the chart in question obtained from testimony taken by the board, or from a general discussion by the members of the board?" Almost entirely by general discussion by the members of the board?" "Almost entirely by Captain Cook appeared and discussed the matter with the board."

"From the position of the Gloucester at the commencement of the battle of July 3, could you see both the Brooklyn and Texas?" "I do not remember seeing the Brooklyn and Texas at commencement of the battle."

"What orders, if any, were signalled by the Brooklyn to the fleet during the engagement of July 3?" "I saw none."

Mr. Raynor: "This does not mean that no signals were displayed, does it?" "No, it does not."

By the court: "Did any one of the Spanish vessels change her course to the southward as if intending to ram one of the fleet?" "I saw no sign of it."

Commander Wainwright was then excused, and Lieutenant M. L. Bristol, former watch and division officer on the Texas was called. He testified as to the arrival of the Texas at Cienfuegos and detailed conditions there.

WILL NOT PROSECUTE

Reports of Silk Frauds Said to Be Greatly Exaggerated.

GOODS NOT SUBJECT TO SEIZURE.

Collector of Customs Satisfied After Extensive Investigation That Charges of Fraudulent Intent Could Not Be Sustained.

New York, Oct. 8.—It is stated that after an exhaustive investigation covering every phase of the case, United States Attorney Henry L. Burnett has written an opinion and filed his conclusion showing that the reports of so-called "silk frauds" in the customhouse in this city were greatly exaggerated. Several weeks ago, it was feared the amounts lost to the government might run into the millions. The collector of customs, however, acting upon legal advice, has declined to seize the merchandise covered by invoice No. 14,367, which invoice was returned by the appraiser as fraudulent. After an investigation of the circumstances surrounding this case, it is the opinion of the collector and the experts of his office that the charge of fraudulent intent cannot be sustained. Therefore the goods are not subject to seizure, and this being the only question presented in regard to the invoice the entry will be liquidated in regular course. Invoice No. 14,367, which was submitted with all the evidence of the United States attorney, was regarded by the collector as one of the strongest cases against the importers.

EVERY EFFORT

Being Exerted by the Government to Save Miss Stone.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Not since the successful attempt to save the life of John Hays Hammond, the American engineer implicated in the Jamison raid, has the state department put forth such energy and efforts to save a human life as it is now exerting in behalf of Miss Stone, the American missionary who was captured by Bulgarian bandits. A sum of money has been forwarded by the agency of the cable to Spencer Eddy, the United States secretary of legation at Constantinople, who has shown remarkable energy and ability in unearthing the ramifications of the plot which resulted in the kidnapping of Miss Stone.

There is little doubt that the Turkish government has done all it could be expected to do to run down the bandits, and what is now to be done is to secure similar action on the part of the Bulgarian government, and to that end influences more potent with the Slav races than that of the United States government are now at work. Should these measures fail, then the ransom money must be paid, and that is why Mr. Eddy has been placed in possession of this powerful auxiliary. The state department officials depurate most earnestly newspaper discussion of the measures it is taking in Miss Stone's behalf, claiming it is being greatly embarrassed in its efforts by such publications. Consequently the officials refuse to give any information concerning the case beyond merely negative statement that they have not been informed of the reported extension of one month to the time allowed for the ransom of Miss Stone.

War on Beet Sugar.

San Francisco, Oct. 8.—Another aggressive move has been made by the American Sugar Refining company in the campaign it has begun against the beet sugar industry. The cut in the price of granulated sugar to all Missouri points which was announced last week has been followed by a reduction in the price of beet and cane sugar in all states from Colorado to California. The reduction was announced by the Western Refining company, which is allied with the American Refining company, amounts to 80 cents per hundred on beet sugar and 20 cents per hundred on cane sugar. In order to discriminate further against beet sugar the Western Sugar Refining company announces that it will endeavor to bring about peace between the factions. As he is well liked by the Chadwells, his efforts may be successful.

Would Abolish Railroad Passes.

New York, Oct. 8.—The committee appointed by the Central Traffic association, the Western Passenger association and the Trunk Line association one year ago has unanimously reported that all passes should be abolished, even the courtesy passes should be abolished including courtesy passes of one president of a road to another. This action will be reported to the association for ratification. The committee consists of W. N. Newman, James McCrea, W. H. Truesdell and S. M. Felton.

Cotton Mill Combine Proposed.

New York, Oct. 8.—A report is ourrent in cotton circles that a large consolidation into a new corporation of Fall River print cloth mills is about to be announced. The report has taken the apparently specific form that the combination will include virtually all the mills except the Borden mills and contemplates moreover bleaching and printing as a part of the new company's operations.

CRASHED TOGETHER.

Freight Train and Engine Meet and Kill Four Trainmen.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 8.—One of the worst wrecks in the history of the Mohawk division of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad occurred in the village of Oriskany, seven miles west of this city. Four railroad men were killed in the wreck and one was injured. The killed: Spencer Shannon of Schenectady, engineer; George Palmerton of Rensselaer, fireman; William Wier of Albany, brakeman; Argyle Smith, fireman of Albany was injured, but not seriously.

An eastbound freight engine collided with a light engine which was crossing from one track to another, thus causing the wreck. The crash was terrific and in an instant all four of the New York Central tracks were completely blocked. Palmerton and Wier of the freight engine were badly scalped but their bodies were not mutilated. Shannon was pinned under the boiler head of his engine and considerable excavating was necessary to extricate him. Argyle Smith, fireman of the light engine was found under the boiler.

Engineer Hager of the light engine was hurled through the window of the cab of his engine and across a ditch, but landed safely.

Another Wreck.

Middlesboro, Ky., Oct. 8.—A wreck on the Louisville and Nashville railroad at Wasioto, Ky., seven miles north of here, resulted in the death of Engineer James Shumate of Middlesboro. James Hale, brakeman, was perhaps fatally injured. John Cooper was slightly bruised. The wreck was caused by a cross tie being placed on the track. A man was arrested at Wasioto charged with the crime. It is said he was an enemy of Shumate.

Powers Trial Begun.

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 8.—The second trial of ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers as accessory to the murder of Governor Goebel began Tuesday. Judge Cantrill read the affidavit filed by the prisoner's attorneys setting forth "the alleged partisanship of the court, that the judge is a candidate for senator and deeply prejudiced against the defendant personally as well as politically, etc." Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin argued that the affidavit was not within the law. He said the affidavit was a mere recitation of the prisoner's conclusions and opinions over his inability to get a fair trial. Colonel Campbell delivered a bitter speech against those who thus reflected on the court. Judge Cantrill refused to vacate the bench, saying that the affidavit should have been filed before the judge had taken any action in the case. He refused to discuss the sections of the affidavit which related to himself, but denied that the jury in the former trial had been unfairly chosen. The defense and the Commonwealth then proceeded with the trial.

Two More Dead Feudists.

Middlesboro, Ky., Oct. 8.—William Morgan and Ross Chadwell, wounded in Sunday's fighting at Union Baptist church near Big Springs, Va., have died. This makes six dead from that feud encounter. A large party, headed by Bud Chadwell, Len Chadwell and Joe Dooley, have left Middlesboro armed with Winchester rifles to join the Chadwell forces. It is generally believed that serious results will soon follow. Arms and ammunition are being secured from surrounding towns. The Chadwells, it is said, have ordered a wagonload of arms from Knoxville, Tenn. Augustus Morgan, 80, father of the Morgan boys, is endeavoring to bring about peace between the factions. As he is well liked by the Chadwells, his efforts may be successful.

Missing Man Turns Up.

Denver, Oct. 8.—Word has been received in this city from J. G. Lancaster, the wealthy Dawson City merchant who disappeared from his hotel in Seattle over a year ago. Mrs. Peyton, a sister of Lancaster, received a letter from him dated at Beaumont, Tex., and saying he would arrive in Denver shortly on his way to California to join his family. Lancaster attributes his action in leaving Seattle to mental and physical collapse. He says that he remembers only that he wanted to find quiet and rest. He says he felt a peculiar nervousness coming over him on board the vessel coming from Alaska as they were nearing Puget Sound.

Don Carlos Favors Peace.

Paris, Oct. 8.—Baron Zairen, the Carlist leader who is now in this city, discredits the reports from Spain of the imminence of a Carlist uprising. He says Don Carlos favors peace.

Bubonic Plague in Brazil.

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, Oct. 8.—Three new cases of bubonic plague developed Thursday and Friday there were four. So far 54 persons have been stricken.

BULGARIANS ANGERED

Regard the Kidnapping of Miss Stone as an Outrage.

FEELING AGAINST PRINCE FERDINAND

Murder of the Captive Missionary Would Not Help the Macedonian Cause—Boer Refugee Accused of Treason—Foreign News.

Philippines, Bulgaria, Oct. 8.—Public interest in the fate of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the kidnapped American missionary intensifies here. There is widespread condemnation of the government for allowing such freedom to the Macedonian committee as to enable it to engineer the outrage.

Miss Stone resided here before she went to Salonica and she is well known throughout the country. The patriotic Bulgarians are incensed, as they recognize that Miss Stone and her colleagues of the American mission in Bulgaria and Macedonia have been their best friends throughout the troubles. There is no lack of indications that Prince Ferdinand is imperiling his own position by permitting such license to the committee as to enable it to blackmail people in support of the Macedonian cause.

Consul General Dickinson, when here on his way to Sofia from Constantinople, thought it probable that if the brigands understood from headquarters that the ransom could not be paid they would release Miss Stone, as the Macedonian cause would not be helped by murder of the woman.

Captured Brigand's Story.

Paris, Oct. 8.—A letter received by the Havas agency from Salonica, dated Oct. 4, says: "The American consul here has just received orders to make the arrangements with the governor of the payment of the ransom of Miss Stone. The United States will advance the money, afterward settling with Turkey. The Turkish authorities have made numerous arrests among the Bulgarian population without distinction of religion and nearly all have been put to torture in the hope of abstracting information. A prisoner named Dimitri said an understanding existed between the Protestants and the Macedonian committee and Miss Stone was even acting in concert with them with a view of obtaining funds for a political-religious propaganda. These declarations, wrung from Dimitri under torture, are regarded as valueless. What is certain is that the captain of the band designated for the payment of the ransom a place in proximity to the Roumanian frontier, which proves that he hopes to escape the Turkish police and that the Bulgarian police do not cause him anxiety. This condition of affairs is shown by the fact that five or six bands of brigands, of 12 or 15 men each, have become so bold between Strumitsa and Kuprill that the officials of the Oriental railroad have requested the Turkish military authorities to reinforce the troops guarding the tracks and bridges."

Dr. Krauss Arraigned.

London, Oct. 8.—Dr. Krauss, the former governor of Johannesburg, who was arrested Sept. 2 on the charge of high treason, was arraigned in the extradition court at Bow street and charged with high treason and incitement to murder. The former charge is connected with the surrender of Johannesburg, when according to the public prosecutor, Dr. Krauss obtained from Lord Roberts 24 hours armistice on the plea that street fighting would thereby be obviated, and utilized the period in getting all Boer fighters out of town and in sending £180,000 to Pretoria. After Dr. Krauss had been paroled he went to Europe and applied to Minister Leyds of the Transvaal for money on account of the services rendered. Dr. Krauss was remanded for trial.

Russo-Turkish Rumor.

London, Oct. 8.—It is rumored that Russia will intervene in the dispute between Turkey and France. The port is said to be willing, in exchange for Russia's assistance in obtaining a friendly settlement, to cede to Russia the port of Burghas, 76 miles northeast of Adrianople, and only 10 hours steam from Constantinople. The rumor is not confirmed. The cession of the port would create a grave situation, giving Russia virtual command of the Black sea and enabling her to occupy Constantinople at a few hours' notice.

A STATEMENT has been issued on behalf of Rear Admiral Sampson to the effect that he did not approve the passages in "Historian" Macfarlan's book calling Rear Admiral Schley a "caitiff and a coward." It is asserted that when Sampson read this far he became angry and refused to go farther, and that his secretary finished the job.—Courier Journal.

It took Mr. Sampson a long, long time to give out this denial. Probably if Mr. Schley hadn't demanded an inquiry, the denial would never have been made.

REFERRING to the "Problem of the Surplus," the Chicago Record-Herald says that Secretary Gage has undertaken to solve the problem "by offering to purchase $20,000,000 worth of government bonds, and by diverting internal revenue receipts to the amount of $5,000,000 into the National Bank depositories. It is not difficult to understand that if there really exists a "surplus problem" the redemption of outstanding obligations would tend greatly toward a solution. "But it is difficult to understand what advantage," remarks the Georgetown News-Democrat, "the government derives from the diversion of internal revenue receipts to the amount of $5,000,000 into the National Bank depositories. In other words, this means that the diverting process would result in distributing $5,000,000 among the banks to be used without the payment of any interest. Mr. Gage has 'diverted' in his direction to a considerable extent since he took charge of the Treasury department."

PLANNING TO ELOPE

When Arrested on a Charge of Breaking Into a Neighbor's House and Stealing a Watch and Other Articles.

During the Germantown fair the residence of Mr. Frank McIntyre, near Fern Leaf, was entered one day in the absence of the family by a thief who secured a gold watch, two rings, a pocket knife, a French harp and some other articles.

Recently Mr. McIntyre obtained a clue to the guilty party and came to town Tuesday and swore out a warrant in Squire Grant's court for John Riggs, a young man who has been employed by Mr. John Klinger, who lives in the neighborhood.

It transpires that Riggs has been paying assiduous court to Mr. Klinger's sixteen-year-old daughter. The parents opposed the match, and the couple had been planning for some time to elope to Georgetown, O., and get married.

Riggs came to Maysville Tuesday morning, obtained a rig at Alexander's stable, had driven out to a point in the neighborhood where Miss Klinger was to meet him, and was waiting for her when Constable Dawson appeared on the scene and cruelly put an end to the young man's dreams of happiness.

Riggs was brought to town and jailed to await a hearing before Squire Grant. Mr. Dawson recovered one of the stolen rings, the knife and the harp. It is reported Riggs had given one of the rings to his sweetheart.

Riggs is a son of Amos Riggs who was sent up for life for killing the Boyd's near Mt. Gilead.

FIRE NEAR MURPHYSVILLE.

Residence of Mr. Jacob Rhodes Destroyed Tuesday Afternoon—Lost All and Had No Insurance.

The residence of Mr. Jacob Rhodes, near Murphysville, caught fire from a defective flue Tuesday afternoon and burned to the ground, together with the contents, excepting two or three articles of furniture. Mrs. Rhodes was assisting her husband housing tobacco at the time.

The loss falls especially heavy on the family, as they had no insurance. Dr. Huddleston, Mr. A. R. Howard and other kind-hearted citizens of the community are raising a fund for the family to enable them to go to housekeeping again. It's a worthy cause.

What's Your Face Worth?

Sometimes a fortune, but never, if you have a sallow complexion, a jaundiced look, moth patches and blotches on the skin, all signs of liver trouble. But Dr. King's New Life Pills give clear skin, rosy cheeks, rich complexion. Only 25 cents at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store.

STOCK CLEARANCE SALE!

A settlement of the estate of the late senior partner of this firm is to be made in January. A necessity of the event is the reduction of stock to the minimum. It is to our interest to convert goods into cash at the sacrifice of profit. It must be a clearance sale in the most comprehensive significance of the term—a sale in which neither cost, value nor loss get a moment's consideration. To reduce our immense stock is the only aim, the highest hope, the fixed determination. No man or woman who knows the value of a dollar, who understands this opportunity to save, will let it pass without taking advantage of it to the full as far as prudence and means permit. While many departments are represented here, it would take double the space this ad. occupies to tell of the dozens of other equally attractive bargains. Call on us, it's the only way to master all the facts.

SIX BIG VALUES!

No. 1—Melange Cheviot, 45 inches wide, 29c, original price $1. In all the new fall shades. If you can judge values we are sure wisdom will guide you rightly when you see this unusual bargain.

No. 2—Black Taffeta 27 inches wide, 75c., original price $1. Every yard guaranteed to wear. You may be surprised at the price, but you'll be more surprised at the quality.

No. 3—Oneita Union Suite, 43c. instead of 75c. Soft and fine, well made and finished. Closely knit to withstand many washings. You know the garment too well to need further description.

Everything mentioned above on sale now. Of course early comers have benefit of choice. No disappointments await you, complete satisfaction stamped on every offering.

None bigger, none better, none worthier ever offered the people of Maysville.

No. 4—Fancy Suitings, 42 and 45 inches wide, 29c. Original price 75c. Dark plaids and mixtures, strictly all wool. Effective for children's dresses, women's waists, wrappers and matinees.

No. 5—Women's Fleece-lined Stockings, 22c., original price 35c. Fast block, silk fleece, ribbed or plain top, double sole and heel.

No. 6—Men's Two-piece Underwear, 43c., original price 75c. Best Maco cotton, finely woven, softly fleeced. A well cut and finished garment.

A DOLLAR is worth just what it will bring. If you had a barrel of them in the desert of Sahara they wouldn't buy a cup of water. Now we are certain there is no place in Maysville where a dollar will bring you as much as it will here during this sale. It might buy a larger package elsewhere but we are not talking of quantities. We refer to qualities and values. The following list tells what a dollar will do in some of our departments. It's a list of exaggerations but a statement of facts.

A Dollar in the Linen Department will buy a splendid bleached Damask 72 inches wide in rose, fern, lily, clover and many other patterns. Original price $1. The best bed spread you ever saw for a dollar and no wonder for they've been selling for $1.

A Dollar in the Colored Dress Goods Department will buy an exquisite French Broadcloth worth $1 or a Panne Cloth as soft as velvet worth $1 or a Scotch mixed Covert for Walking Suite, worth $1.

A Dollar in the Black Goods Department will buy a pair of Nottingham Lace Curtains, or ten yards best Silken, or two yds. good heavy Tapestry, or 20 yds. of Scrim or one Rope Portiere, or 8 yds. of Curtain Swags.

D. HUNT & SON.

KENTUCKY CROPS.

Special Bulletin Issued by Section Director Hersey as to Yield of Wheat, Corn, Tobacco, Potatoes, Hay and Fruits.

[Special Bulletin Issued Oct. 8th]

Very cool weather prevailed during the past week and no rainfall occurred. Frosts were reported in many portions of the State from the 3rd to 5th; they were generally light, but in some localities, especially in the north-central counties, they were heavy and damaged all tender vegetation. Late fields of tobacco and some late corn were about the only crops affected seriously.

In the dark tobacco districts in the western portion of the State, there is a splendid crop, both in yield and quality; it is nearly all in the house and is generally curing nicely. In the burley districts the crop was late and quite a number of fields are still out, probably amounting to about five per cent. of the burley product; quite a portion of this was injured by the frost on the 4th and 5th.

In the Bluegrass section, the burley tobacco is reported to be nearly a full crop and generally of good quality; but in the northern counties, from Pendleton to Trimble, there is a very poor crop, both in yield and quality. Much has been cut too green and is curing badly. This will bring the total burley crop down to considerably less than three-fourths of a crop.

The corn crop is not turning out quite as well as was expected. It is very poor in the north-central counties and not good anywhere. The late fields were injured in some localities by frosts on the 4th and 5th. It will average, for the State, but little more than a half crop.

The wheat crop was very irregular. In some localities the Hessian fly attacked it, doing a great deal of damage; while other fields in the same county gave excellent results. In the western portion of the State and in a few of the north-central counties there was a good yield, but in the central portion it was generally poor. The crop, for the whole State, averaged a little more than three-fourths.

The sowing of wheat for next year is now in progress, and it is expected that an average acreage will be sown.

Irish potatoes were very poor, but sweet potatoes were quite good.

Oats turned out rather better than was expected, but fell short of an average crop.

The hay crop was considerably short, but quite a large acreage of stock peas was sown during the latter part of the season, which generally gave good results and added largely to the supply of forage.

During August and September the pasture improved greatly, so that grazing can be continued into the early winter.

The peach crop was very good of both the early and late varieties, but apples were very light, in many localities being almost an entire failure.

Farm stock of all kinds are in very fair condition, and farm work is generally well up.

State Confederate Reunion, Louisville, October 22nd-23rd.

For the above occasion the C. and O. will sell round trip tickets, Maysville to Louisville, at rate of one fare, $1.35. Tickets on sale October 21st and 22nd; return limit October 24th.

The party who advertised a table and safe for sale in the BULLETIN a few weeks since will confer a favor by calling at this office and making themselves known, as several persons have applied, desiring to purchase the articles.

FOUR-HORSE TEAM

Ran Off, and Several Parties Have Narrow Escapes—One Horse Killed.

Mr. John Barry and his tenant, a man named Gallagher, living near Kennard, this county, were housing tobacco last Saturday when their four-horse team frightened and ran off.

The fourteen-year-old daughter of Gallagher was driving the team when it started. She fell between the horses and was badly injured, the wheels passing over one of her legs.

Mr. Barry and Mr. Gallagher both jumped off the wagon, the former escaping with severe bruises. Mr. Gallagher fell on his head and was unconscious for some time. He may not recover.

The runaway team was finally stopped by one of the horses failing and breaking a leg. It had to be killed.

In addition to Mr. Gallagher's daughter who was driving the team when it started, two of his younger children were riding on the wagon at the time. They remained on the vehicle and escaped uninjured.

Mr. Barry had been offered over $100 for the horse that was killed.

RIVER NEWS.

Two Fast New Packets Will Shortly Be Looking For a Trade.

Bonanza up to-night and the Lizzie Bay down.

It is reported there are 65,000,000 bushels of coal ready for shipment from Pittsburgh.

Another large model barge, named the Charley Barrett, was launched at Levanna the past week.

The steamer Louise, formerly the Henrietta, has been bought by Capt. C. B. Dodson for the Kanawha river and Wheeling trade.

Capt. James M. Campbell, age seventy-seven, died at Huntington this week. The deceased had been in the steamboat business for fifty-two years, twenty-five of which were with the White Collar line on various steamers.

"There will be two fast new boats up the river that will be hunting a trade in a very short time," says the Enquirer, "if they have not already settled on one, the Greyhound and the Helen Gould. The Chevalier will come off the Middleport docks and take the place of the Greyhound in the Portsmouth and Proctorville trade, and the Columbia will come off the Point Pleasant docks and take the place of the Helen Gould in the Charleston and Gallipolis trade." It is reported the Helen Gould will enter the Cincinnati-Chilio trade.

The Girl From Porto Rico.

The comedy which has captivated the theatre-goers in many parts of the country the past two seasons will come to the opera house here next Friday night. A dozen songs and unique vaudeville features are scattered throughout the performance. Isabelle Fletcher, a young blonde, essays the leading role, which was written for her capabilities as a comedienne. The supporting company is referred to as an excellent one, the costumes gay, the scenery elaborate and altogether "The Girl" as she should be dazzling!

Judge Hanson Kennedy, of Carlisle, Democratic nominee for Circuit Judge in the Eighteenth district, the counties of Harrison, Robertson, Nicholas and Pendleton, has resigned the nomination because of ill health, and Chairman Smith, of the party committee of the district, has nominated Mr. J. J. Osborne, of Cynthiana, to take the vacant place on the ticket. Judge Kennedy has gone to Boulder, Colo., to stay for a year. Mr. Osborne has many friends in Mason who will be glad to learn of the honor bestowed on him.

The recent registration at Paris shows a net gain of 237 for the Democrats over last year, over and above the combined Republican and non-committal votes.

Just now we are somewhat torn up on the outside of our store rooms by reason of remodelling our windows; when done we will present quite a formidable front. The inside, however, represents a herculean strength that only is derived from handling merchandise superior in quality and, at the prices we sell them, cheaper by far than the ordinary run of ready-made clothing. Here you find the choice production of four or five of the most famous of Rochester's manufacturers.

The hundreds of young and old who buy them of us will tell you so.

CHASVILLE, Oct. 10.—Mr. Brumel and family spent last Sunday with relatives in the town.

Mrs. Marie Bow cast her vote yesterday at the school election.

Mrs. Marie Bow was the middle woman in town yesterday. Her vote was unanimous.

Mrs. Odie Hedin returned home yesterday from a visit to her uncle Thomas J. Hedin.

There has been more fun and feathers talk and twaddle over the recent election in the town than any previous election in the history of the village.

Many of our folks visited the school Monday. They say the elephant seat were so large that he had put his foot down on the part he wouldn't have left a house standing.

Miss Loretta Seddon, George's baby girl, has a watchful guardian in the shape of a big dog which follows her wherever she goes and is ready to be separated from her at any minute.

Mrs. Anna Young, nee Earth Rose, is able to be about again, having recovered from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Martha Collins' baby boy is still a source of anxiety to his parents and is continued ill.

Bob Moody blacksmith, up to his eyes in work, was working and carriage repairing, and paid off.

Postmaster D. G. Wilson and family attended the circus in a carriage drawn by a six-horse team. Dr. Baldwin and wife were also present and red lambskin tummy, and went down in their rig.

Alfred Cooper, the sage of Oak Grove says he went up several times Saturday evening laughing and each consecutive occasion wondered what he was laughing at until he thought of the school election.

Wm. Beckert, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever, is now at the critical stage of the disease. The fever is broken, but he is so reduced and weak that his recovery is doubtful. He has recently had an alarming hemorrhage, and was reported no better Monday last.

Tobacco all in, corn raising advancing rapidly and preparations being made for sowing fall wheat.

The Mayhugh & Collins flour mill has added a force pump to their plant. A dam has been constructed, and it is used to force water from the pond to their mill.

Thomas C. Parker was out buggy riding Saturday. He was a bit stuck up, but greeted every one with his usual smile.

Sammy Keenan has returned from a trip to Paris where he took some stock for Dr. Hood.

The election for school trustee, which was held Saturday, was a very exciting one. Robert Baldwin's term expires in June, and this election was to replace him or a new one, as the ballot might decide. It became of necessity a party fight, and Democrats and Republicans were widely arrayed against each other. Vehement were kept going bringing in voters, and squads of men argued strenuously on score of persons and street corners. William Keenan, Democrat, had a majority of eight votes. Mr. Ridderick asserted that he had made a mistake and voted for the wrong candidate, after his vote had been written down, but it was too late. The meeting of the school board, oval shed and other alleged unnecessary expenses, etc., quite a figure in the discussion. Our village was shaken from center to circumference, and it will be weeks before we resume the even tenor of her way.

There is a very prim, prim, maiden lady of advanced age, who dresses like a thousand miles from this place. She owns and superintends a nice farm on which the residence, her land bordering on a much traveled place. A fence advertising agent came out from Maysville one day and painted an garage letter on her front yard fence, "Get married and buy your furniture at McElveen & Humphreys store." When the old lady saw this she thought it was meant for herself, and as a hint her inability to obtain a husband. To say that she was madder than a wet hen would convey but a faint idea of her indignation. After trying for half a day to scratch the obnoxious inscription off with a knife she hitched up a team, went to town and gave the firm a blowing up and refused to patronize them until the sign was erased.

PIERRELLA, October 4.—Saturday afternoon Wm. Wilson and Henry Hord, of Pleasant Ridge, were driving down the hill east of here when the horse got frightened at some dogs driving cows through the woods and ran away, wrecking one buggy wheel and throwing the occupants out and trashing them considerably.

Samuel Rogers was elected trustee here Saturday.

Mrs. L. N. Lysard and niece, Miss Odie Lyons, of Greenup County, are visiting relatives here and in Lewis County.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Bean visited the family of Charles McDonald in Lewis County Sunday.

EAST LINDSTROM, Oct. 8th.—The weather is delightful for farm work.

Ice was observed Friday and Saturday morning.

The tobacco was hurriedly cut the past week and the crop is about all in the barn or on the stalk on the ground.

The early sown wheat and rye are showing up nicely.

The Swammer boys of Washington visited friends here Sunday.

Frank Williams surprised his home folks Sunday by unexpectedly returning home from Illinois where he had been located during the last few months, having sustained a slight injury to his neck while doing a tiring kiln at the Artemesia Tiling and Brick Factory, incapacitating him from duty.

John Wallace, eighty-two years of age, who resides with his only daughter, the wife of John Compton, the enterprising dairyman on the Hill City place, was able to visit his old home farm the past week, the first visit in five years. Mr. Wallace, though of rather feeble appearance, says he never had better health in his life. He was under the vigilant care of his granddaughter, Miss Mayme Compton.
